

Come travelling with the COA this fall!

We have two special trips planned for the fall; one is a requested repeat of a favorite museum with a new place for lunch; the other is a local place with an Inn that knows how to deck the halls for the holidays!

On Friday, October 14, we will return to the Peabody Essex Museum to see Painting the American Vision; an exhibit that showcases The Hudson River School's group of painters. Lunch will be at the Gloucester House. Cost: $55. Call the COA at 508-651-7858 to reserve your spot; limited availability.

On Friday, December 2, join us as we head to Elm Bank to view Massachusetts Horticultural Society's Festival of Trees. This special exhibit will provide not only an opportunity to see spectacularly decorated holiday trees, but some creatively constructed gingerbread houses. We will then head to the Sherborn Inn to have lunch in a private room as we discuss "our favorites." $30 covers the cost of the exhibit and the lunch.
