Wanted: Garden Party Venues

Are you looking for a way to meet more folks in town? Do you have DSHS students who need community service hours? Do you have a free Thursday afternoon in the summer? If you answered yes to any one of these questions, we have a solution!

Volunteer to host a Garden Party. It’s easy…all you need to do is provide the lawn and the garden. Kathy Horigan Dye, our Senior Café coordinator, will do the rest! Our seniors enjoy having lunch outside (they bring their own) and time to catch up with friends. The COA provides drinks and dessert. You’ll meet a great group of folks.

A Salute to Volunteers
Thursday, May 3, 12:30 p.m., St. Theresa’s Church

“Many hands make light work” is something our Grandmothers used to say. While millennials, and even some baby boomers, might not have heard the expression, the fact is, when individuals work together toward a common goal, something wonderful happens. It builds community. It also connects people!

In Sherborn, there are many opportunities to work together, whether it is serving on a Town Board or committee, baking banana bread to share with a senior, plowing a driveway for a neighbor who is out-of-town, clearing a trail so others can enjoy a walk in the woods, or cleaning up Town Forest to the benefit of the land and the residents who use the firewood. We are only limited by our imaginations and the time we have to give.

At the Council on Aging, we are grateful to volunteers who give their time to help seniors remain in our community. Through our programming, our volunteers provide:

♦ An entrée/casserole/salad for our weekly luncheons
♦ Transportation to local medical appointments
♦ A garden venue for our summer garden parties
♦ A meal for someone returning from a hospital stay
♦ Daily phone calls to a homebound senior
♦ Snow shoveling/spring clean-up/leaf raking
♦ Food shopping and lend-a-hand services
♦ Technology assistance and friendly visits

Over the years, 125 individual volunteers (seniors and non-seniors), youth fellowship groups, scout troops (boys and girls) and high school students help out with a single project or made a weekly or monthly commitment at the COA/ Some families have “adopted” a senior neighbor during the winter and taken care of chores including dump runs, mail delivery and shoveling walkways. While most of our volunteers brush off their actions with a “no big deal, happy to help,” these acts of kindness truly matter to our seniors.

Every spring, we honor the contributions of all volunteers at the Sherborn Council on Aging at the Volunteer Luncheon, so please join us on Thursday, May 3, at St. Theresa’s Church at 12:30 p.m. Let us show our appreciation for your contribution to our seniors. And together we will applaud our 2018 Volunteer of the Year, a person who has served the town in many capacities. His/her identity is a secret until the luncheon—come and find out who most deserves our accolades this year.

Being members of the UUA church is an important part of Demler family life. Roger has served on the Building and Grounds Committee, been treasurer and Finance Committee chairman and now is a trustee. But he has the most fun walking the runway, modeling the latest in spiffy menswear from the Good As New shop, as part of their annual fashion show.

With their children and five grandchildren (all boys) settled in Ohio and California, Roger and Sally look forward to annual family gatherings on a cousin's island on Moosehead Lake in Maine. In 2004, the Demlers bought Sadie, a 34-foot lobster boat (circa 1960) that has taken them, and their family and friends on voyages to explore coastal New England, the islands and beyond. When the grandchildren were younger, they could spend an entire afternoon jumping off Sadie's wheelhouse roof, trying to see who could make the biggest splash. Now that they are grown up and sophisticated, they still enjoy jumping off Sadie's roof. The old boat winters on the Maple Street property.

Roger's life in retirement revolves around his home and family, his church and his town; and of course, his crows as long as they continue to come when he whistles!

FRIENDS of the Sherborn COA thank the following members who gave so generously to our Annual Membership Fund Drive. This list includes donations received through June 2017.

Your thoughtful gifts are already at work helping to provide respite care for caregivers; emergency assistance to frail elders and consulting services for their families; Lifetime Learning scholarships to enable seniors to attend the classes; unique talent to entertain seniors who attend the Senior Café luncheon program; transportation to museums and special concerts to keep the cost of local trips affordable for seniors and special programming which continues to interest and engage our older residents. Thanks to your contributions, our organization can provide the financial support the Council on Aging needs to offer a more diverse program offering.

We welcome all FRIENDS to attend the Annual Membership Meeting to be held on Wednesday, June 13, at 10 a.m. in the Sherborn Police Station Training Room. We hope to see you there.

Thank you again for your wonderful support.
